NEARLY EVERYBODY GLAD ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Hundreds of Poor Families Were Remembered and That Added to Good Cheer

Nearly everybody in Atlanta was thankful Thursday—that is, they seemed thankful. If evidence of spirit and happy faces be any indication of inward thankfulness.

In the churches, in the homes, in the prisons, in the institutions of charity, Thanksgiving was duly celebrated, upon various being held by many of the denominations.

In the Catholic churches Thanksgiving was celebrated with masses at which offerings were taken up for the poor.

In the Protestant churches of the city Thanksgiving services were held, and in many of them Thanksgiving dinners were held at which offerings were taken up for the poor.

The Salvation Army celebrated the day in the usual generous fashion, supplying to many poor homes the Thanksgiving cheer which forms so large a part of the Thanksgiving feeling. Baskets piled high with good things to eat were distributed to hundreds, and the Salvation Army was not the only organization to give thought to the poor.

Many individuals also made a round of visits before they partook of their own abundant Thanksgiving feasts, and in all, what with the dinners, the football games, the theater and the services, it was a more than usually pleasant day.

There was the usual number of accidents, of course, but in the main the day was as enjoyable as the weather was fine.

CATARH VICTIMS

Get Immediate and Effective Relief by Using Hyomel.

Hyomel is nature's true remedy for catarrh. There is no stomach dosing—no irritation.

When using this treatment, you breathe healing balsams and effectively reach the most remote air cells of the throat, nose and lungs, the catarrh centers are destroyed—quick and sure relief results.

Hyomel often restores health to chronic cases that had given up all hope of recovery.

At the start of the disease, when the breath is becoming offensive, and constant sniffing, discharges and frequent droppings in the throat and frequent coughing, that choked up feeling, begin to make life a burden. At the first symptom of catarrhal trouble, such as crusting in the nose, watery eyes, hawking and morning coughing, surely use Hyomel and see how quickly you get relief. All druggists sell it.

The complete outfit, including inhaler and bottle of liquid, costs but $1.00; extra bottles of liquid, if later needed, 50 cents. Hyomel is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.—(Adv.)

CHIEF WARNS COUNCIL AGAINST SHINGLE ROOF

Urges Ordinance Forbidding Inflammable House Covering All Over City

The elimination of the shingle roof all over Atlanta will be recommended to council by Fire Chief W. B. Cummings in his annual report soon to that body.

Other big cities require fireproof roofs," said he Friday, "and Atlanta can afford to make the same requirement. Sixty per cent of our fires are due to old rotten shingle roofs which furnish readily inflammable material for any chance spark to set alight."

Shingle roofs already are prohibited within the fire limits, but Chief Cummings makes the point that there are very few residences in those limits.

The chief believes the new law would work a big decrease in Atlanta's loss by fire. He considers shingle roofs a constant menace to property and life. They should be supplanted by roofs of stone, slate, tin, terra cotta, or any other non-inflammable material. If council enacts his recommendation into law, it will mean that the shingle roofs cannot be renewed with any inflammable material and that all roofs on new houses must be fireproof from the start. Within a comparatively short time, says Chief Cummings, all the roofs in the city would be fireproof.

He was no less insistent against the greater risk of fires that the winter season brings. Grass and furniture should be checked carefully, says he, and no family should retire at night without careful inspection and preparation of all fires in the house. He urges greater care to prevent grass fires. "Just a few days ago we had eight grass fires in one day, and in one instance three houses were burned."

Along this same line of fire prevention, Sanitary Chief John Jentzen has instructed his force to remove all leaves and grass removed at once from yards and lots.

Mile a Minute Speed Is Charged to Haynie; Waits Down in Tower

A mile a minute is the speed which County Policeman J. W. Haynie, of W. Clark, an autolite, when he charges with exceeding the speed limit, a Haynie, with several other officers, was standing near the Shashard bridge on Peachtree road, Thursday afternoon when he arrested the driver of a car.

The policeman yelled at him to stop, but instead of obeying Haynie increased his speed, they say. Haynie jumped on his motorcycle and overtook the flying car near the West Avenue crossing. He then arrested the driver, a copy of charges and he was carried to the county jail and lodged there until he representing a man. His case will come before Judge A. E. Calhoun, of the city criminal court.

HORSES REAL ACTORS IN BEN-HUR CHARIOT RACE

Dozen of Them, Headed by
"Monk," Appear in This Year's Performance

Klaw & Erlanger's stupendous spectacle, "Ben-Hur," which comes to the Atlanta theater next week, not only shows the services of 200 people on the stage but includes real live equine actors as well. A veritable racing stable of thoroughbreds, representing a large sum of money, each horse being valued at more than $1,000, is transported from city to city in two palace stables which form an important portion of the "Ben-Hur" special train.

Twelve horses appear in the celebrated chariot race, while the remaining part of the racing stable are "understudies" and are always ready to take the place of any horse that might be sick or disabled.

The star of the spectacle is Monk, who possesses the extraordinary record of having raced over 4,000 times without ever being defeated. Monk is a bay horse, with black points and blazed face, that race in the circuit of Judd, the Prince of Hurd in the play. He is the horse nearest the front from the first performance up to the present time. In all these fourteen years he has never missed a performance or failed to win. You look at the scene upon the stage and while you know that he and his fellow actors gain the advantage by a mechanical device, yet their struggle is so

"Sunshine," Salvation Army Lassie, Thanksgiving Bride of Louis Moore

MR. AND MRS. LOUIS MOORE.

Lieutenant Sadie Miller Wood
and Won by Man Who Loved
Her at First Sight

Miss Sadie Miller, better known all over Atlanta as "Sunshine," and Louis Moore were married Thanksgiving night at the offices of the Salvation Army, the home of the bride's brother, 245 Pulliam street, by Rev. Dunbar Ogden, of the Central Presbyterian church.

Miss Miller, or Mrs. Moore, or "Sunshine," is a member of the Salvation Army of Atlanta and it was while performing her duties that she met Mr. Moore. This was about a year ago. Mrs. Moore, having converted her husband, she says he was a member of Dr. Ogden's church before she met him.

"All that tale of a child Saturday night, a dapper young man, the fallen brother and the street, praying, is imagination," said Mr. Moore. "True, there was plenty of romance. I met 'Sunshine' on the street and made up my mind at once that she was the girl for me. Then I proceeded to go after her and got her."

His pretty little wife was listening to this recital of his conquest. "Ten years it took you a year, mister, and you never knew where you stood. Moore met her on the street, obtained an introduction through her brother, and asked permission to call. This was given him and a year's ardent wooing began."

Mrs. Moore is a daughter of Henry Miller, a well known railroad man. Mr. Moore is employed by the Western Union Telegraph company. He will become a soldier in the Salvation Army and his wife will follow him in that employment. The couple will start housekeeping at 111 Cooper street.

POSTOFFICE EMPLOYEES AT THANKSGIVING FEAST

Congressman Howard and Postmaster Jones Guests of Honor at Dinner

The postoffice employees' association gave a delightful Thanksgiving dinner at the hotel Ansley Thursday evening, at which there was a large attendance.

Postmaster Bolling H. Jones and Congressman William Schley Howard were honor guests and both made talks. On behalf of the employees C. J. Sheehan, of the postoffice, made a splendid talk.

The banquet was part of the program which Postmaster Jones has inaugurated, and which is intended to bring the postal forces into closer personal and social relation with one another.

HUNTING LICENSES WILL NOT EXPIRE TILL END OF SEASON

That is what gives rise to the conflict.

"Obviously the law must be interpreted, for it is in conflict with itself," said Commissioner Davis Friday. "It cannot be construed both ways; therefore, it must, of necessity, be construed one way. The only fair construction I can place on it is to accept the first provision as the legal one, and to disregard the second until the legislature makes the point clear."

A few days ago the publication was made that Commissioner Davis intended to overrule the game law in this regard. This did the commissioner an injustice. He is simply interpreting the law.

"I am not overruling it and I do not intend to overrule it," said he Friday. "Nor could I overrule it if I would. I simply must place a definite construction on the law as it stands. My predecessor in office, Mr. Jesse Mercer, construed the law just as I do."

TWO CHARITIES COMBINE IN CHRISTMAS CAMPAIGN

Jewish Christian Mission and Volunteers of America to Give Feast to Poor

The Jewish Christian Mission and the local post of the Volunteers of America will consolidate their Christmas project this year. The necessary arrangements are being superintended by a committee including staff Captain and Mrs. J. Barlar, Rev. Dr. L. J. Erlich, Mrs. T. E. McGee, and others. Investigating sources and making arrangements are being made daily.

The Volunteers of America have been conducting a home for friendly women and children in the old Fulton county detention hotel, 1st Central avenue, for several months. Much good is reported as having been accomplished.

The volunteers are under the leadership of Ballington Booth and Maud R. Booth. There is scarcely a city of any size in the United States where the organization is not making sunshine and happiness for unfortunates.

DECISION FOR JOURNAL AFFIRMED BY TRIBUNAL

Federal Court of Appeals Sustain Judge Pardee in Postage Case

The decision of Judge Don A. Pardee of the federal court, that The Journal did not owe the government for postage which it alleged in a civil suit, was due has just been sustained by the United States circuit court of appeals.

A mandate setting forth this fact was issued from the office of the clerk of the district court.

DRINK MORE WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less meat and take Salts for Backache or Bladder trouble.

Uric acid in meat irritates the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from phlegm, stick headache, distaste, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

But less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell little and have been used by folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

"I AM THE WAY"

Men and Religion Bulletin No. 86

"Thine Ears Shall Hear
a Word Behind Thee
Saying;

'This Is the Way, Walk
Ye in it.'---Isaiah 30:21

Men met with leading citizen, Caiaphas. They talked of the Carpenter, Jesus of Nazareth. All differences were forgotten; then would ride the city of Him. Twelve men met with Jesus in an upper room. His disciples; they knew that leading citizens, led by Caiaphas, would try to kill Him.

Judas, there, had already sold Him for thirty pieces of silver. The other eleven— This night of the betrayal, when there was unanimity among the enemies of God, they, the disciples, were quarreling. They asked:

"WHICH OF US IS ACCOUNTED TO BE THE GREATEST?" BUT—

"Jesus knowing that the Father had given all things into His hands, and that He came forth from God, and goeth unto God; riseth from supper, and layeth aside His garments; and He took a towel and girded Himself.

"He began to wash the disciples' feet and to wipe them with the towel." Shamefaced Peter must see His Master at his feet. They ceased disputing as to which of them was best and deserved the highest place.

They heard Him saying: "If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example; that you should do as I have done to you."

VERILY, VERILY, I SAY UNTO YOU, THE SERVANT IS NOT GREATER THAN HIS LORD—

"If you know these things, happy are you, if you do them." Next day He hung upon a cross between two thieves.

Leading citizens derided Him; thinking that they had won, they sneered: "He saved others, let Him save Himself; if He be Christ, the chosen of God!"

Soldiers mocked— "If thou be the king of the Jews, save thyself."

One of the thieves cast this in His teeth: "If thou be Christ, save thyself and us."

Leading citizens chorused: "He saved others; himself he cannot save."

Thief called across to thief: "Dost thou not fear God?"

And to Jesus cried: "Lord, remember me, when thou comest into thy kingdom."

Jesus replied: "Today, thou shalt be with me in Paradise."

And so He died, taking with Him home from His very cross, first of all, a thief. Coming from the grave, the risen Lord, He appeared and spoke first to the woman whom He had saved, Mary Magdalene.

In those days, He made clear "he way—a new and living way."

"Thine ears shall hear a word."

Again and again, you have heard it; not men—not women dictating, but God calling you, conscience urging you: "THIS IS THE WAY, WALK YOU IN IT."

The way of the cross. Maybe, it will mean your crucifixion for the sins of others.

Miss Edith Appleyard has shown this in her death. Your city—you by silence consenting—tolerated moral cesspools.

Frighful sickness was bred in them; thence came hideous germs. They tortured—they kill the innocent.

They killed Miss Appleyard. For the lost-like Jesus "for the joy that was set before her, she endured the cross, despising the shame."

For the lost she died. Thank God! Atlanta has put an end to the partnership with the crime which caused her death—but in our city's life, are other things which day by day are bringing sorrow and death to innocent women and children.

What of these? What will you do? Where leads Jesus? Let us waste a time prating as to who shall lead—as to who is greatest—

Let no man dictate to you! But hear Him saying: "I have given you an example"—

"Do as I have done—"

"The servant is not greater than his Lord—"

"TAKE UP YOUR CROSS AND FOLLOW ME."

For whosoever would save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for My sake, the same shall find it. For what is a man profited, if he gain the whole self?"

God calls you—Conscience bids you: "This is the way, walk you in it."

God grant that you begin today.

Suits and Overcoats for Men and Young Men

WINTER is here, and although today and tomorrow might be warm, the chilly blasts that come this way in December are on the way---they're coming, and you're going to buy that new Suit and Overcoat before they come.

You want to be neatly dressed---you want to feel the satisfaction which a perfectly fitting new Suit and Overcoat always gives. And a GLOBE Suit will give you that comfort and satisfaction, PLUS---plus the knowledge that you are wearing the particular suit that best fits your particular build; plus the knowledge that you are wearing the latest modeled Suit or Overcoat, tailored in distinctive styles and from fine fabrics.

GLOBE Suits will take all the hard wear you can give them, for months and months, without losing their shape and attractiveness.

We make every Suit and Overcoat we sell---we make them for the men and young men of Atlanta and Georgia, and we know that when you wear a GLOBE Suit or Overcoat, you derive the satisfaction that goes with clothes that are made right, and made to fit the particular individual wearing them.

Suits and Overcoats $15--$18--$20

Excellent selections in the new Scotch effects, silk mixtures and plain blues, grays and browns; all hand-somely lined. These suits are cut in the latest and prettiest shapes.

Overcoats---handsomely lined Chinchillas, in blue, brown and Oxford; also English tweed, cassimeres and vicunas; in all the approved shades and styles, with belted backs and shawl collars.

improvements in the postal service of the United States, save only the parcel post, was ever so thoroughly discussed before its inauguration as the rural free delivery service. Many opposed it, most of them on the ground that it would serve only to add to the rural deficit of the postal service, without bringing commensurate benefit to the people. It is true that the postal service was to be self-supporting on the basis of the postage collected from the mail circulating on rural delivery routes, disallowing what followed, as is shown by the fact that the postal matter amounts to less than $8,000,000 a year, the cost of operating the rural free delivery service amounts to nearly six times as much. But the postal service was to account the business of delivering mail, and the records of the department indicate that the average farmer and his family get more mail than they send.

JACK.

WHAT DO MEN KEEP QUIET ABOUT?

J. S. C.: "Sending a contribution that doesn't appear."

Esther: "They keep utterly silent about the time they take selecting a tie or a hat, especially when they are spoofing of the ladies for prodigality in such matters."

Another thing they remain mute on is their gastronomic predilections. Because expression is useless. After years of telling their loathing for creamed potatoes—so we are informed—the despised dish appears and frequently. Patience breaks, happily. "Why didn't you tell me you didn't like them?" She says.

On the o. h., there's the woman's side. (Applause.) How doth the busy little wife improve each shining opportunity to remark, and justly: "If I served you the stuff at home you'd not touch it."

HOW WORDS MAY BE USED.

(From "The Dark Flower.")

And close to that hard, dark, their hands clasped. They had nothing to say yet—like children saving up. She had put on her cloak to hide her dress and its silk swished against the silvery blades of the wheat. What had moved her to put on this blue cloak of the sky and flowers, of birds' wings and the black-burning blue of the night! The hue of all her things! And how still it was in the late gleam of the sun! Not one little sound of beast or bird or tree; not one bee humming! And not much color—only the starling's gleam of the last warm light on the wheat.

Doubtless there lives a finer word-artist than Mr. Galsworthy, but his name is not to be summoned, of that hand. If we could collate Inspector in English, Galsworthy would be well, a required taste. And perhaps, Julia Juniors would not write: "They is a man doubt Mitchell should be elected, because he is vulgar perferable to McCall."

THESE RING GIRLS ALWAYS WERE IMPULSIVE.

Julia Ring, who appeared at the Temple theatre here last week with John N. Smith in Herbert Hall Winslow's adaptation of the French farce,

"Please tell me," A. F. G. asks Orator Grantlar Rice, "upon what ground Harvard is awarded the Eastern championship this season?" The Stadium and Osborne Field. Ay, call it holy ground, the spot where first he (Brickley) trod.

THANKSGIVING.

Thanksgiving Day is here again
To bid us all give praise,
For benefactions ever passing
In countless sorts of ways.

No matter what our creed may be,
We all in one accord
Are thankful for benefactions
Our country doth afford.

Let us ever be most grateful
In our civic love and pride

To the Celestial Providence
That doth our triumphs guide.

Our Own Travelogues.

NAPLES, It., Nov. 16.—We are now here upon the verge of sailing for the U. S. A. upon the steamship Berlin, of the Ewan, justice line. Naples, one of the principal cities of Italy, is not located upon any river, but one of the principal bays of this vicinity, named the Bay of Naples, is conveniently adjacent. The su-sets here are very highly spoken of, and, I may say deservedly.

It's a Bad Habit

That through your being comes a-creeping—
Beware (at first it's rather nice),
That vicious habit, scrapbook keeping!
You think it shows a scorn of waste,
But it's a passion that increases
Until, with scissors and with paste,
You spend your time in seeking "pieces."
With feeble eye you scan the pages
Reviews, the nooks where humor rages,
In search of something you can use
To sum up your accursed pages!
The time you waste in this pursuit,
The space, materials, and labor—

The goodly volumes that you loot.
The spoils you wrest from friend and neighbor,
Devoted to a loftier aim,
Might bring you wealth or something ripping—
But why should I confess our shame
Here, brother, is another clipping!

Connor went out and joined the artist and they walked away together. She heard their steps crunching on the sand. When the sounds ceased she ran out on the rocks where she could see the beach.
